

September 17, 2013

To whom it may concern:

I have known Mr. Juan Chacon for over ten years. While working at Los Angeles Mission College as a Professor and Athletic Director, Mr. Chacon worked in the IT Department. He was always a self-starter with much initiative. When faced with difficult situations he always found creative solutions to difficult problems.

While I was working as Athletic Director, Mr. Chacon created and refined the web site for our athletic department. It was second to none statewide, providing vast information while being user friendly to all.

Mr. Chacon was always available to assist with new statewide computer programs and applications implemented for our department. When computer issues arose he always was there to help, and solve them with a professional, friendly approach.

It is without reservation that I would recommend Mr. Juan Chacon for any issues involving, web development, computer repair services, or computer consulting. He is a true professional at what he does, is fair, honest, and reliable.

Sincerely,

John Klitsner
Retired Athletic Director
Los Angeles Mission College